Segni Agrees To Take Over Italian Reins

Christian Democrat Forms Cabinet, Will Be Sworn In Today

ROME, July 5 (AP)—Antonio Segni, a scholarly left-center Christian Democrat, agreed tonight to serve as Italy's sixth postwar premier. He said he would present a new coalition Cabinet to President Giovanni Gronchi tomorrow. The Cabinet will be made up of Christian Democrats, Social Democrats and Liberals—all pro-Western in foreign policy.

After being sworn in as premier, Segni must next face votes of confidence in both houses of the Italian Parliament.

Ending an hour-long conference with Gronchi, Segni announced:

"Tomorrow at noon I will present to the chief of state the list of members of the new government."

Successor To Scelba

Segni, 64, succeeds Mario Scelba, who was forced to resign June 22. Scelba governed Italy for 16 months with the same parties making up a coalition government. He was forced out when the Christian Democrats withdrew their full backing.

Segni caused some surprise when he announced that the Republican party, a minor center group, will not be represented in the Cabinet but "will back it loyally." There had been speculation that Rinaldo Ossola, a Republican leader, would be named defense minister.

Long, Hard Bargaining

The makeup of Segni's Cabinet is expected to be similar to Scelba's on a party basis. Under Scelba, the Christian Democrats held 14 ministries, the Social Democrats 4 and the Liberals 3.

Segni's acceptance came after long, hard bargaining. Gronchi called him in June 26 and asked him to try to form a government.

Segni, former agriculture minister and education minister in Cabinets of the late Premier Alcide de Gasperi, passed his toughest hurdles yesterday.

He won the backing of minor center parties for his political program. The Liberal party had expressed opposition at first, viewing his record on land reform with skepticism.

5 Die As Trains Collide Head-On

FORT SUMNER, N. M., July 5 (AP)—Five men perished in flaming wreckage and three more were injured early today when two Santa Fe Railway freight trains smashed head-on.

Four bodies have been recovered. Search for the fifth has been hampered by flames which broke out in diesel oil and have been fed by a car of acetate.

One thousand feet of track and a 48-foot bridge were torn up when one of the freights moved off a siding and the trains collided.

Ralph Ater of the Santa Fe office in Amarillo, said the westbound freight, going less than 20 miles per hour, had headed into a siding to let the eastbound freight pass. But the westbound train, instead of stopping, apparently went on through, colliding with the eastbound train which was rounding a curve at not more than 50 miles per hour.

Why the westbound train moved from the siding onto the main line "may never be known," Ater said. Ten cars of the 132-car westbound freight derailed. Thirty-eight cars of the 84-car eastbound were derailed.

Reds Ask ASNE Aid

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—The Daily Worker, New York Communist publication, has asked help from the American Society of Newspaper Editors in getting a passport for its foreign editor, Joseph Clarke, to cover the Big Four summit meeting in Geneva July 18. The State Department has refused Clarke a passport.

Peron Suggests Truce With His Political Foes

BUENOS AIRES, July 5 (AP)—President Juan D. Peron broadcast a message to the nation today designed to silence rumors his hold on the Argentine government was seriously weakened by the brief revolt against him June 16. He said the enemies who then failed to assassinate him now have become rumor mongers attempting "sedition by telephone."

The keynote of the president's 11-minute address was a dramatic offer to declare a truce with his political adversaries. Peron asserted the revolt was attempted by a few navy units with the aid of small groups of civilians. But he absolved the major opposition political parties of any participation.

Reunification Call
"I desire to faithfully acknowledge that I consider that the popular political parties are incapable of accepting criminal attempts against defenseless people," Peron said.

"I also consider that the political parties are now more strongly partisan to legality than to violence and that every day there are fewer political leaders who regard for disturbance rather than peace."

Peron invited "responsible men" from the opposition to come to terms with him for reunification of the nation and called for "a truce in the political fight" regardless of the rumors that might be spread by "bad - intentioned enemies."

No Reference To Church
He told the nation that the situation in Buenos Aires is completely normal and said the revolt never extended beyond its city limits.

The president made no reference to his quarrel with the Roman Catholic Church which caused dissention in Argentina for almost eight months before the revolt. High authorities of the church said today they did not know whether the two prelates the government expelled at the climax of the controversy, could return to Buenos Aires now. They added they thought it would not be prudent for them to do so.

Copper Strike Said To Be 100% Effective

DENVER, July 5 (AP)—A union spokesman said today a strike against three large copper companies "is 100 per cent solid and effective on every front."

Negotiations, meanwhile, showed little progress. Meetings were held at Douglas, Ariz., with representatives of the Phelps-Dodge Copper Corp. and at Salt Lake City with Kennecott Copper Corp.

Thomas' Call For Younger Admirals Jolts Old Salts

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Thomas was disclosed today to have ordered that younger men and specialists be included in the next crop of admirals.

An open letter from Thomas laid down the policy line. The fact that the letter was distributed for all of the Navy to read was in itself a break with tradition. It appeared to underline Thomas' determination to extend the search for young blood which vaulted Rear Adm. Arleigh Burke over the heads of 90 of his seniors to be the next chief of naval operations.

An admirals' selection board, headed by Adm. Jerauld Wright, started today to comb the records of some 1,600 captains for the purpose of selecting 31 for promotion to the rank of rear admiral.

Thomas set forth his views on what kind of officers should be

Red Briefing Of U.N. Press Not Permitted

Violation Of Korea Armistice Charged By Allied Command

PANMUNJOM, Wednesday, July 6 (AP)—The U. N. Command yesterday barred Allied newsmen, over their protests, from accepting a rare Communist invitation to a news conference in the 1000-yard circular joint security area near here.

The refusal came after the command told the Reds in some of the strongest language it ever used at a Military Armistice Commission meeting that their recent "sweet talk" and "peaceful propaganda" was in marked contrast to "your continued willful and flagrant violation of the (Korean) truce agreement."

Illegal Air Force Buildup

Maj. Gen. Harlan C. Parks, senior Allied delegate to the commission read a 17-page document of alleged Communist truce zone violations and told North Korean Lt. Gen. Lee Sang Cho, the top Communist delegate:

"It stands as monumental evidence to the U. N. Command and the free world of your complete insincerity, dishonesty and utter lack of integrity."

"The combat forces and particularly the air forces that you have built up illegally and covertly since the signing of the armistice constitute a grave situation which threatens seriously the very structure and stability of the armistice itself."

Reds Withdraw String

Lee offered to hold a press briefing for Allied newsmen after the commission meeting. At first one string was attached—Communist newsmen were to attend Parks' news conference. Later the Reds withdrew that provision.

Parks discussed the offer with the 15 U. N. correspondents for almost an hour. He said he opposed it and could not permit it.

After two telephone calls to U. N. headquarters in Tokyo and talks with Lt. Gen. Elmer J. Rogers, Far East Command chief of staff, Parks told the newsmen:

"I do not consider it appropriate that representatives of the enemy side enter my camp to attend my press conference. Conversely, I do not think accredited correspondents of the U. N. Command should enter their camp for similar conferences."

Train Smashes Car, Killing Six

ALLENSGROVE, Wis., July 5 (AP)—A 35-year-old woman and five of her children were killed today, as her husband watched in horror, when a speeding passenger train hit an automobile at a country crossing.

Five other persons in the car were injured critically, four of them her children.

The dead were: Mrs. Harriet Smith, of Beloit, and her children, Jacqueline, 4; Debbie, one year; "Skippy," a boy, three months old; Larry, 16, and Keith, 6.

Injured were: Betty Lou Smith, 9; Leland, 12; Susie, 7 and Cheryl, 2, all children of Mrs. Smith; and Miss Beatrice Smith, 21, her sister-in-law. They are in Lakeland Hospital in nearby Elkhorn.

The accident was witnessed by Mrs. Smith's husband, B. Eddie Smith, 38, Beloit, from the porch of the farm home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Smith, about 275 feet from the crossing.

Senate Decides To Put Funds For Dixon-Yates In Reserve

Five Perish In Train Collision
Workmen, battling flames and smoke, pull debris away in a frantic search for bodies after a head-on collision between two Santa Fe railway freight trains near Fort Sumner, N. M., yesterday. Five men perished in the crash, which was followed by fire.

Record Number Die In Holiday Auto Accidents

[By The Associated Press]
Motorists out to enjoy the holiday died in record numbers over the Fourth of July weekend.

Latest reports showed at least 407 died in traffic accidents. The National Safety Council's preholiday estimate was 380. The previous record for a three-day Fourth of July holiday was 366, in 1952.

In the 78-hour period from 6 p.m. local time Friday to midnight Monday, at least 250 persons drowned and 147 died in miscellaneous mishaps, for an overall total of 804. Ned H. Dearborn, National Safety Council president, said about 420 Americans were killed in the battle of Bunker Hill and he pointed to the heavy toll of traffic victims "celebrating the freedom" fought for at Bunker Hill and in similar Revolutionary War battles.

"Those who fell at Bunker Hill died for a cause," he added. "Can we say the same for the victims of the battle of the highways?"

The overall total of accident victims was a record for a three-day Fourth of July holiday. During a four-day Independence Day holiday period in 1950, 793 persons died, including 491 in traffic mishaps.

Every state and the District of Columbia reported at least one accidental death from some cause. However, only one fireworks death was reported.

14 Drown In Maryland

[By The Associated Press]
Fourteen persons drowned in Maryland over the long Fourth of July weekend and four others died in highway crashes. There were three other fatal highway accidents just a few hours after the holiday ended.

New German Rocket Expert Assists Army

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—The Army has obtained the services of another German rocket and space flight expert, Prof. Hermann Oberth.

Oberth, who took part in the research which resulted in the development of the V-2 missile used by Germany in World War II, recently arrived in this country and has been engaged by the Army Ordnance Corps to work on guided missiles at Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Ala.

Jet Crashes In Test

EDMISTON, England, July 5 (AP)—A top secret jet fighter on trial for the Royal Navy air arm crashed and burned today. The plane, the twin jet Supermarine 525, hurtled into a barley field. The pilot, Lt. Cmdr. Anthony Rickell, 29, was killed.

Air authorities have said the 525 was believed to be the fastest plane ever designed for operation from an aircraft carrier.

Burrowing Hose Back In Business

DOWNEY, Calif., July 5 (AP)—That burrowing garden hose was back in business today.

George di Peso, 38, snipped the hose yesterday after about 20 feet had mysteriously wiggled into the front lawn. But today Di Peso, a truck driver, dug up the loose end and coupled another length of hose to it.

"I might as well see how far the darned thing will go," he said. "We'll let nature take its course." The green plastic hose began disappearing Thursday. It burrows steadily at the rate of 2 or 3 inches an hour. No one has adequately explained it.

Heat Wave Grip Still Unbroken

[By The Associated Press]
Heat blasted most of the nation again Tuesday while a cool front which could bring relief hung tantalizingly not far south of the Canadian border.

One death was attributed to heat in New York City where the mercury pushed up to 95 degrees. At nearby La Guardia Field the thermometer hit 98.8 and at the Newark, N. J., Airport it went to 101.

Baltimore registered 100 and Boston and Tucson both 97, among the highest recordings in the nation.

In some sections the warm air mass swelled northward. Dickinson, N. D., had a high of 68 Monday and a high of 87 Tuesday.

By contrast, San Francisco, Portland, Ore., and Butte, Mont., recorded only 58. They were on the cool side of a line extending from eastern Montana southwestward across extreme southeastern Idaho, central Nevada and California.

Some representative temperatures were: Cleveland, 90; Chicago, 95; Washington, 95; Memphis, 89; Mobile, 87; Dallas, 90; St. Louis, 86; La Crosse, Wis., 83; Muskegon, Mich., 82; Duluth, 77; Rapid City, S. D., 96; Denver, 89; Salt Lake City, 77; San Diego, 69; and Seattle, 60.

Solons Laud Johnson, Pray For Recovery

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—Senators of both parties paid warm and unusual tribute today to Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, stricken with a heart attack.

Every member present as the Senate reconvened after its holiday recess arose for a moment of silence in prayer for the Democratic floor leader's recovery.

Speaker after speaker expressed grief over Johnson's illness and high praise for his work in the Senate.

Doctors said there was no chance the tall and once tireless Texan would be able to return to his duties in this session of Congress. A late afternoon advisory report reported Johnson's condition had not changed in the last 24 hours and remained serious.

Young Divorcee Slain; Rejected Suitor Arrested

LOS ANGELES, July 5 (AP)—A wealthy young divorcee was stabbed and strangled to death in her luxurious hilltop home today and police arrested a man they said is a rejected suitor and former houseboy.

Her white knitted stole knotted around her throat, the body of Mrs. Norma McCauley, 33, was found on a chaise longue in her bedroom. A coroner's surgeon said she had been stabbed five times—twice in the chest—but that cause of death would not be determined until tomorrow.

John R. Crocker, 34, graduate law student who had worked as a houseboy for Mrs. McCauley since her divorce four months ago, was held on suspicion of murder.

Deputy Police Chief Thad Brown said it was learned the student, who quit UCLA recently, had proposed to Mrs. McCauley and threatened to kill her when she refused him. Brown said the man was believed to have a key to the home in the fashionable Bel-Air district. There was no sign of forcible entry.

The law student's name was brought into the investigation by Mrs. McCauley's neighbor, Mrs. Marilyn Low, detectives said. They quoted Mrs. Low as saying that the victim had confided she had received a proposal of marriage from the houseboy—and that he became enraged when she refused, and threatened to kill her.

Atom Reward Bill

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—The House passed by voice vote and sent to the Senate today a bill to grant rewards of up to $500,000 to persons giving information about illegal dealing in nuclear material or atomic weapons.

Any reward over $50,000 would require presidential approval.

Slain Widow Apparently Swindled Out Of $60,000

PHILADELPHIA, July 5 (AP)—Detectives investigating the mysterious death of a 65-year-old wealthy widow in her Center City Hotel apartment said today she apparently had been swindled of $60,000 in the last 18 months.

They said also that $8,000 in cash was missing from the room where Mrs. Lulubel Rossman was found yesterday, bound hand and foot and suffocated by a handkerchief and a string of pearls stuffed in her mouth as a gag.

Mrs. Rossman was described as the sole heir of a $405,000 estate left by her husband, Palen P. Rossman senior partner in a firm of certified public accountants. He died two years ago.

One police investigator said a search of Mrs. Rossman's apartment uncovered "documentary

Money Available If Memphis Does Not Build Plant

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—The Senate voted $1,377,000,000 today for the Tennessee Valley Authority, the Atomic Energy Commission and other purposes. It left undisturbed a conditional 6½ million dollar item for the Dixon-Yates power project.

The action means that the 6½ million will be available, for linking this private power project to TVA lines, only if the city of Memphis fails to go ahead with plans to build its own electric power plant.

Most of the debate on the big bill centered on this relatively small item. It was planned to build a transmission line that would feed Dixon-Yates power into the TVA system to replace power needed for atomic plants.

Foes Offer No Amendment

Opponents of the Dixon-Yates project did not offer any amendment to knock out the 6½ million. They said privately they did not have the votes to win; they decided to rely on the provision as written by the Senate Appropriations Committee saying the money should be appropriated, but not be made available if Memphis makes a definite commitment to build within 90 days.

The catch-all appropriation bill includes $575,000,000 for operations of the Atomic Commission in the fiscal year which began last Friday: $27,053,000 for the TVA, $203,753,000 for reclamation projects and $571,763,000 for rivers and harbors and flood control projects supervised by the Army Engineers. Passage was on a voice vote.

Pact's Fate Up To Memphis

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said before the Senate voted that he believed the Dixon-Yates contract will be cancelled if Memphis goes ahead with its plans. He spoke after meeting with President Eisenhower at lunch.

Meanwhile, the White House reported that Budget Director Rowland Hughes worked through the Fourth of July holiday on the review that President Eisenhower asked, dealing with whether to continue or cancel the contract the Atomic Energy Commission negotiated with the Dixon-Yates private power interests.

Bone Chip Hunt Saves Boy's Arm

ADA, Okla., July 5 (AP)—An Oklahoma highway trooper who searched for three hours last night for a chip of bone probably saved John Pearson's right arm.

Pearson, 18, of Kirkwood, Mo., suffered a mangled arm when it was struck by a piece of pipe protruding from a passing truck. Pearson's arm had been resting on the window of his car.

Pearson was hurried to a hospital, where physicians said Trooper Bill Bailey they might be able to save the young motorist's arm if a splinter of missing bone could be found.

Bailey and three volunteers returned to the accident scene, searched for some three hours in the dark and found the bone. At the hospital, surgeons replaced it and reported today Pearson probably would keep his arm.

Two Hostages Released, One Badly Beaten

Inmates Stage Coup At Washington State Pen, Make Demands

WALLA WALLA, Wash., July 5 (AP)—Several score tough and mean prisoners seized nine hostages and control of half the sprawling state prison today, then set a 24 hour deadline for improvement of treatment by custodial personnel.

The deadline was set in a conference with Dr. Thomas Harris, newly appointed state director of institutions.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., July 1 (AP)—Several score of the toughest and meanest prisoners in the Washington State Prison took control of a section of the institution today after seizing nine hostages and going on a brief rampage of destruction.

Two of the hostages were quickly released but the others still were held hours later as three ringleaders walked boldly to a meeting with this state's director of institutions.

Cells in two wings were opened by 33 men who started the revolt, releasing 396 other prisoners. The scene was relatively quiet in the two wings, however, and the prisoners could be seen calmly roaming about.

Kitchen Knives Seized

The quick coup was staged at 9:45 a.m., as the inmates, armed with knives seized in the prison kitchen, walked through the administration section of the U-shaped structure, seizing Associate Warden Ted Bezerides and eight others.

One of the two hostages released was badly beaten and left unconscious by the revolting gang. No attempt was made to leave the prison grounds and any possibility of escape soon was completely cut off as scores of guards and state patrolmen carrying machine guns and rifles ringed the walls.

Dr. Thomas Harris, newly appointed director of institutions, was flown from the state Capitol at Olympia, 300 miles to the west, and at 3 p.m. met the three ringleaders in a conference to hear their demands.

Leaders "Mean And Tough"

Prison officials withheld the names of the three ringleaders who walked across an open compound to meet Dr. Harris in an office. They disclosed, however, that one was serving life for murder, another was involved in a prison knife episode recently and the third was a long-term morals offense prisoner, all considered "mean and tough."

The prisoners released by the original revolt crew were from Wing 4, which housed 168 prisoners and Wing 5 which housed 228.

The revolt was contained within the one building, away from the remainder of the 1,784 inmates in the institution.

D.C. Cars, Strike Talks Inch Along

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—Down-town Washington's sun-scorched streets today as negotiations inched along, like the traffic, in the fifth day of a transit strike.

But the jam wasn't nearly so fierce as officials had anticipated. There were some tieups during the hours the area's quarter-million government workers headed to and from work. And police said there seemed to be more cars on the street than last Friday, when the walkout began.

On the whole, however, the flow of traffic was surprisingly orderly. Except for two bus lines operating from Virginia, one from Maryland, and constantly halted taxis in the District of Columbia, the capital was without public transportation. And there was no indication of a break in the strike which idled 2,400 AFL street car and bus operators.

Washington, July 5 (AP)—American travelers spent 72 million dollars in France last year, the Commerce Department said today.

This was the largest amount of tourist dollars received by any European nation in 1954. The United Kingdom and Italy came next, with about 64 million dollars each. Americans spent 352 million dollars last year visiting Europe and the Mediterranean, compared with 306 million the year before.

France Most Popular

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—American travelers spent 72 million dollars in France last year, the Commerce Department said today.

West Near Accord On Arms-Cut Plan

LONDON, July 5 (AP)—The big Western powers were reported to have reached a "little" agreement on a "little" disarmament plan for halting the East-West arms race in Europe.

Diplomatic informants described the project as the first installment of a package deal with Russia which the West hopes eventually will include agreed programs to reunite Germany and to set up a European security system.

Western experts have drawn up a set of proposals which, if approved by their governments in the next week or two, probably will be raised at the Geneva conference of the Big Four heads of government.

The plan calls for a census of arms and armies maintained in Europe by East and West and an agreement to cut down these forces in phases.

It provides, too, for the creation of demilitarized or militarily limited zones where there would be either no troops or only national troops.

Several of these ideas were said to be connected with other aspects

Ike Enjoys Movie

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—President Eisenhower went to a movie today and seemed to enjoy it thoroughly.

Marland Says Griffith Failed To Defend SRC

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 5 (AP)—Gov. William C. Marland said today the main reason he asked for the resignation of Road Commissioner H. Keith Griffith was that Griffith failed to defend the Road Commission.

Remarking that he was glad reporters brought up the subject, Marland passed around at his weekly news conference today typed copies of a statement concerning Griffith's resignation.

The statement related the request for Griffith's resignation to the road commissioner's performance during the 1955 Legislature. During the entire session, said Marland, there was no attempt by Griffith to defend the Road Commission against "selfish interests."

Most of an ambitious highway tax program proposed by Marland was rejected by the Legislature, which passed a Road Commission reorganization bill that Marland later vetoed.

The reorganization bill grew out of a two-year investigation by the Highway Research Committee, a between-sessions group set up by the Legislature.

General Found Dead

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 5 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Clinton D. (Casey) Vincent, deputy chief of staff for operations of the Continental Air Defense Command, was found dead in bed in his quarters today.

Ramsey has been assistant attorney general since January. He was law clerk for Federal Judge W. Calvin Chesnut from 1947 to 1948 and assistant U. S. Attorney for Maryland from 1948 until 1950. He was formerly associated with the firm Semmes, Bowen & Semmes.

Sybert said he was "extremely distressed to lose a man of the caliber of Mr. Winter," but was "pleased to have available to replace him a man as eminently qualified as Mr. Ramsey."

3-For-1 GM Stock Split Is Proposed

NEW YORK, July 5 (AP)—Directors of General Motors Corp. recommended today a three-for-one stock split to be voted on by stockholders at a special meeting Sept. 23.

Holders of record Aug. 8 will be eligible to vote in the meeting to be held at the GM offices near Wilmington, Del.

Subject to stockholders approval, it is contemplated that the issuance of the shares would commence on or about Oct. 10.

House Passes Bill Giving U.S. Presidential Papers

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—The House voted today to vest in the federal government ownership of all the official papers of the nation's presidents. The documents are now scattered over the country, and nobody knows where a lot of them are.

The idea behind the legislation, approved by the House on a voice vote, is to make sure that Americans will be able to examine these historical prizes whenever they wish.

Under a bill sponsored principally by Rep. McCormack (D-Mass.), the General Services Administration would buy up all the presidential collections, wherever they are, and the massive cataloging job would be done by the National Archives.

The measure also has a cold war aspect. The House Government Operations Committee, which reported the bill to the floor, observed that his nation "is locked

Winter Resigns, Ramsey Named

BALTIMORE, July 5 (AP)—Attorney Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert today announced the resignation of Harrison L. Winter as deputy attorney general and the appointment of Norman P. Ramsey to succeed him.

Winter, who was named to the post last December, said he was resigning because of "personal considerations which require that I return to the private practice of law."

Each summer Johns Hopkins University buys fireflies at 25 cents a hundred with a $10 bonus going to the youngster bagging the biggest crop of after-burners.

Since 1947 Hopkins scientists have been using the bugs to study the common source of energy of all living things—adenosine triphosphate (ATP). They have found the firefly's light varies in proportion to the amount of ATP.

Diem Is Prodded To Oust Bao Dai

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, July 5 (AP)—The National Revolutionary Committee prodded Premier Ngo Dinh Diem today to oust absentee Chief of State Bao Dai, form a new cabinet and establish a provisional republic.

A committee letter calling on Diem for swift action was signed by a vice chairman, Ho Han Son, and Secretary General Nui Lang. The committee chairman, Nguyen Bao Toan, is on a trip to Manila.

A Diem spokesman asserted the premier considers the committee has no right to act in Toan's absence and "we ignore this entirely." The spokesman added Toan named another vice chairman, Ha Huy Liem, to replace him in his absence and that the committee acted while Liem himself was in central Viet Nam.

Diem already has made it plain to Bao Dai, now living on the French Riviera, he no longer has any governmental influence in South Viet Nam. Emerging from last spring's civil war with a stronger hand, the premier formed a new government without consulting Bao Dai, abolished the imperial guard and ordered the arrest of Bao Dai's leaders here on treason charges.

U.S. Steel Increases Price $7.35 Ton

PITTSBURGH, July 5 (AP)—U. S. Steel Corp. published new price listings today on more than 50 items of steel and said the changes average out to an increase of $7.35 a ton or about 5.8 per cent.

The price changes become effective at midnight. Most other basic steel producing firms are expected to announce similar price increases.

Big Steel said last Friday it would increase prices—partially because of an average 15 cents an hour wage increase granted workers under an agreement with the CIO United Steelworkers.

The wage increase ended the shortest industry strike in the history of the 19-year-old union. Production was halted about 12 hours in most plants.

In Scandinavian countries, Christmas begins on December 13, Santa Lucia's Day, and ends January 11.

Slovak Anti-Red Refugee Leader Killed By Bomb

MUNICH, Germany, July 5 (AP)—A bomb wrapped in a mail parcel today killed a Slovak anti-Communist refugee leader who had served in his country under Nazi occupation in World War II.

Besides instantly killing Matus Cernak, 50, as he unwrapped the parcel in the suburban Schwabing postoffice, the bomb killed an aged woman bystander, injured 13 persons and wrecked the mail delivery room.

Schwabing is an artists' colony and a rallying place for refugees from behind the Iron Curtain.

Criminal police in identifying Cernak figured the assassians had scored a bulls-eye. They apparently had got their intended victim after a study of his habits, including that of calling personally for mail parcels and opening them in the postoffice.

Police said Cernak, chairman of the National Council of Slovakia, an organization of anti-Red Slovak immigrants in West Germany, had served as cultural minister of Slovakia under Premier Josef Tiso in 1939-45.

The explosion ripped apart a sturdy wooden writing desk in the postoffice lobby, blew out all of the ceiling skylights and shattered the glass in windows.

Police said Cernak called at the post window for the package after finding an official notice in the council's private mailbox of its arrival.

Closed-Door Hearing Held On Magistrate's Rejection

ANNAPOLIS, July 5 (AP)—Reasons for rejection of former Baltimore magistrate Charlotte Main's reappointment remained locked in Senate secrecy today despite attempts of her friends to pry them loose.

Approximately 30 persons, most of them women representing political clubs and other organizations, attended a Legislative Council committee hearing here to pepper senators with questions at an inquiry that lasted approximately an hour and a half.

At the end, however, they knew little more about why Miss Main failed to get her job back than when the hearing started.

At one point, Mrs. John Walter Gressitt of Baltimore threw a challenge to the Baltimore senators to identify who opposed Miss Main.

"We would feel more confident in the Senate if the man who opposed her would stand up and say 'I am the man.' If he has enough bravery to oppose her in secrecy, why not in public?" Mrs. Gressitt asked.

Miss Main was named by Gov. McKeldin to a new term in the justice of the peace appointments he sent down to the Senate last February. Most of them were confirmed and Miss Main rejected on the final night of the session.

No other premium gas gives you the Amoco OCTANE BONUS!

Extra energy on the road, where it counts!

Other gasolines get their high laboratory octane ratings by adding lead! But lead can leave harmful deposits that keep valuable octane from working. Then some of the power fails to reach the road.

And usable road octane is the only octane that matters—it's the only practical way to determine the value of the octane in the gas you buy.

Only the new, unleaded Amoco-Gas gives you a unique Octane BONUS

Today, from the world's largest, most advanced petroleum Ultra-former, comes the new high-octane Amoco-Gas—the one gas that needs no lead! Every ounce of octane-energy in the new Amoco-Gas is usable octane in your car. No lead deposits can form on engine parts. No octane is wasted fighting them.

Result? More octane is put to work turning the wheels than for any leaded gas you can buy. That's what we call the big Amoco-Gas Octane Bonus.

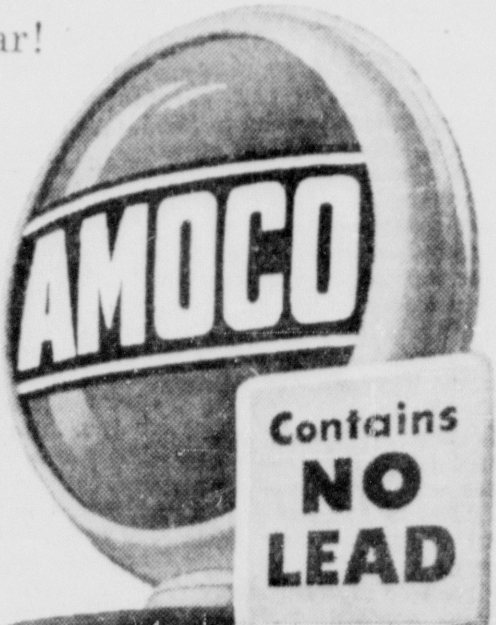

Try it—it does a wonderful thing for your car!

Local Firm Asks Stone Bid Review

The Cumberland Cement and Supply Company yesterday drew to the attention of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners a number of economic reactions it feels resulted from a Romney firm getting the contract for supplying crushed stone to the County Roads Department.

George K. Steiner, president, wrote to the commissioners in reference to the bids received by the board on May 27 for crushed stone. The low bid, he noted, was for stone produced at Romney employing labor from that locality. Wage rates he added are considerably lower than in Cumberland.

"We have realized that we have high production costs in this area compared with West Virginia. Several years ago, in order to produce the stone required for your use and other construction work in this area, about $200,000 was invested in plant and equipment at our Coriganville operation which employs local labor. To compensate for price we require for hard, clean, well-graded stone meeting state and federal specifications, we have made a special low price to you on crusher run D grade."

The price furnished by the local firm Steiner said, was considerably below the company's cost of production, but was made with the endeavor to reduce the county's stone costs.

He pointed out the county purchased $29,598 worth of stone from the Cumberland firm, at the plant, during the past year. At prices quoted by the West Virginia outfit, for similar quantities of stone, the total would be $24,646, at its plant.

"This is a difference of 22 cents per ton in plant price. It would not appear that the haul from the West Virginia plant could be accomplished at this low a figure," he added.

"We feel, in addition to matters of cost discussed above, that the difference in hauling on different sizes of stone seems an irregularity in the West Virginia bid."

"Considering that ours is a local industry paying county taxes and employing local residents, we would ask your reconsideration of this matter."

"It could result in loss of work for local taxpayers in our employment, as due to lack of orders our stone plant is closing down production and laying off 12 men after today (July 1)," Steiner concluded.

Board President William H. Lemmert referred Steiner's communication to the supervisor of the county roads department, J. Walker Chapman.

July Docket Called In Circuit Court

The docket for the July term of Allegany County Circuit Court was called yesterday by Chief Judge George Henderson.

Cases for the non-jury term were set, while others were continued until the October term, which will have a jury.

Officials Clarify Junk Yard Case

Two of the three county commissioners yesterday issued a clarification of their position in the LaVale junk yard dispute.

Board President William H. Lemmert said certain residents of the area in which the junk yard of the Feldstein Iron and Metal Company is located, have received reports that he and Commissioner James Orr issued a permit to Abraham's Feldstein for this operation.

President Lemmert said this information is not true and that Feldstein was found guilty in Trial Magistrate's Court of not having obtained a permit for his LaVale lot.

Feldstein's attorneys appealed the lower court's decision and the case is now in Allegany County Circuit Court awaiting trial.

Feldstein has another case filed against him. A group of residents

Man Sentenced In Assault Charge

A Piedmont man was sentenced to six months in the Maryland House of Correction yesterday by Magistrate Frederick Crowe in Frostburg on an assault charge.

Oswald H. Washington was given a hearing before Magistrate Crowe after being charged with assaulting a Frostburg police officer and resisting arrest.

According to police a fight broke out at 1 a. m. yesterday at the Mountain City Roller Rink, and during the fracas Washington struck Officer Carl Hetz who was called to the scene.

State Trooper Donald Wade and City Police Officer John Frost assisted Hetz in making the arrest.

Washington was sentenced to seek an injunction to make him stop his operation. This hearing has been held and an opinion is forthcoming.

Important thought to keep in mind:

If you want to keep the new engine under the hood as clean as it is today, use that great new Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX—the clean-burning gasoline... and its super-refined teammate, new Gulfpride H.D. Select Motor Oil.

New Gulf No-Nox Gasoline delivers not just the highest octane but full working octane...because it's super-refined to burn clean

NO GASOLINE, no matter how high the octane, will let your engine deliver full power performance—mile after mile—unless it burns clean.

That's why it pays to always use new NO-NOX. Gulf NO-NOX is the clean-burning fuel that gives you full working octane day in, day out. In addition, you get...

- more complete engine protection
- extra gas mileage in short-trip, stop-and-go driving
- freedom from vapor-lock, chugging and stalling
- no knock, no pre-ignition—even in today's high-compression engines

See what a difference Gulf super-refining makes. Gulf takes out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline—at the refinery—to bring you new clean-burning Gulf NO-NOX.

Now! For the ultimate in working octane performance, always use Gulf's super-refined gas-oil team...

Direct Unloading System Planned By Local Bakery

The Community Baking Company, as part of an expansion and modernization program, is to construct a tower and overhead pipe for receiving bulk quantities of flour.

The Mayor and Council gave approval for construction of the pipe and tower at the corner of Henderson Avenue and Knox Street during its meeting yesterday. The company pointed out construction hinges on necessary clearance from the B&O Railroad and State Roads Commission.

City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum announced during the meeting that the SRC had given permission for the pipe to go over its roadway.

Bulk storage bins have been installed in the plant, the bakery explained, and the pipe will be 26 feet above the roadway enabling direct unloading of flour from railroad cars.

A number of reports were read and filed during the session.

Parking Meter Inspector Harry Whisner said collections for the period June 19-24 increased $82.57 on returns of $655.31 and $472.74.

Tax Collector George E. Davis reported collections in June as follows: General, $6,715.75; general improvement bonds, $246.75; 1931 sewer bonds, $3,088.86; and water rents, $41,015.81; for a total of $51,067.21.

More Reports

City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery said receipts of his office last month amounted to $1,714.00 including $255 for licenses; $84.25 for recreation admission tax; $336.35 for Sunday movie tax; and $1,018.70 for bingo and recreation admission tax on bingo.

Water Commissioner William J. Edwards said his department read 3,300 meters and made 1,500 investigations. There were 19 applications for taps and 22 for new meters.

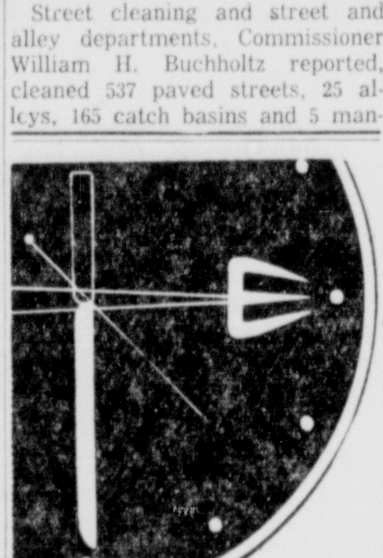

Street cleaning and street and alley departments, Commissioner William H. Buchholz reported, cleaned 537 paved streets, 25 alleys, 165 catch basins and 5 manholes. There were 23 streets and alleys repaired with blacktop and 21 streets and sidewalks with concrete.

Payment of $28,756.80 to George F. Hazelwood Company for work May 1-31 on the filter modernization at Lake Gordon was approved.

City Engineer Nuzum reported 21 building permits, 17 for new construction, issued last month with a total estimated expenditure of $101,600. There were eight applications for occupancy permits, two of which were granted and six referred to the Board of Zoning Appeals.

Council approved purchase of a property on Potomac Street, Ridgeley, from the Hentzell heirs. The property is needed for the flood control project.

Local Trooper Aids Mercy Trip

A Cumberland man was one of two state troopers taken off the holiday highway patrol Monday to speed anti-tetanus serum to Easton Memorial Hospital for a man in a serious condition.

The Associated Press reported that Major William H. Weber of the Pikesville headquarters assigned Trooper Thomas E. Ruppert of the Randallstown Barracks to get the serum from Sharp and Dohme in Baltimore.

Ruppert, husband of Mrs. Elaine (Cooke) Ruppert, 509 Frederick Street, rushed the 50,000 units in 35 packages to the western end of the Bay Bridge where he met Trooper I. E. W. Eckstorm of Easton. Trooper Eckstorm then carried the serum to the hospital.

The injured man is Howard Shirk, 46, of Cordova. He suffered a puncture wound in the palm of his hand a week ago.

Mrs. Ruppert is joining her husband this week in Randallstown. He is a graduate of the 1954 class of the State Police Academy and is a Marine veteran of Korean War service.

City To Acquire Rights Of Way For Water Line

The city has authorized City Attorney Thomas B. Finan to proceed in obtaining options on private property rights-of-way for the new water line to North Branch and the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant.

Action by the Mayor and Council yesterday followed a report from City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum who said such action is desirable in view of the fact construction is due to start this fall.

Nuzum pointed out the city has tentative agreements with the B&O Railroad and Western Maryland Railway for the line across their properties, but that 14 other privately-owned tracts are involved.

Mrs. Leedy Named Police Stenographer

The Mayor and Council yesterday appointed Mrs. Beulah A. Leedy as stenographer in the Police Department at a salary of $200 a month. She will serve during the illness of Mrs. Carolyn Welsh.

A tax refund to Cardell's because of a reduction in assessment by the Maryland State Tax Commission was approved. It amounted to $87.75.

Approved was payment of $4,800 to Robert T. Regester, Baltimore consulting engineer, for advisory supervision on construction of the new sewage treatment plant.

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan said police made 534 arrests and collected fines of 924 during June. The Fire Department responded to 25 calls with the major loss the building of the Feldstein Iron and Metal Company, Wineow Street.

188-hp Buick SPECIAL 6-Passenger, 4-Door RIVIERA, Model 43

This 4-Door Beauty is the Newest Hit in Hardtops

YOU certainly ought to come in and see for yourself why this new kind of hardtop is headed for the best-seller list.

It's a Buick Riviera, of course.

Which means the low and rakish look of a Convertible — a solid steel roof overhead — and no center posts in the side window areas to obstruct your view.

But that's only the beginning.

Here you get two extra doors. They open to the rear compartment. So no one in the front has to move when someone gets into or out of the rear.

Here you get massive half-pillars on either side on which the front doors latch and the rear doors hinge. (That's why you see no center posts above the door line.)

Here, too, you get wholly new principles in body design and strength that give the extra safety of rock-firm solidity at the top, sides and bottom.

And here—bless those Buick engineers!—you get a lot more room in the rear compartment.

For the 4-Door Riviera gives you over 9 inches more hiproom and 5 inches more legroom — yet with no increase in wheelbase or over-all car length.

So we repeat—you certainly ought to come in and see this stunning new kind of hardtop.

It's the very last word in beauty, comfort, convenience. It's available in Buick's two lowest-priced Series — the SPECIAL and the CENTURY. And it's all Buick — with Buick power, Buick ride, Buick handling—and the spectacular performance of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

Drop in today—tomorrow at the latest—and learn what Buick's all time record sales year can mean to you in the way of a whopping-big trade-in deal.

*Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.

Miss Janet Schaidt To Be Bride Of Richard Brant

Miss Janet Schaidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest M. Schaidt, 134 Oak Street, will become the bride of Richard Brant, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Brant, 216 Roberts Street, this evening at 8 o'clock, in Trinity Lutheran Church. Rev. G. A. Wagner, pastor, will officiate.

Miss Schaidt will have Miss Regina Hinds as her maid of honor and Donald Layman will serve as best man. Robert Brant, brother of the bridegroom, and John Krampf will be ushers.

No formal invitations have been issued for the wedding, but all friends are invited to attend.

To be given in marriage by her father, the bride-elect will wear a white embroidered nylon over satin, ballerina length gown, with a round collar and fitted bodice buttoned to the waist, and three quarter length sleeves. Her fingertip veil is attached to a white crown hat. She will carry a white Bible with a white orchid. Her maid of honor's gown is of blue net over taffeta, with a lace jacket and she will carry an old fashioned bouquet of predominately pink flowers.

Mrs. Schaidt will wear a lace dress of white background with yellow flowers and white accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Brant will wear a blue lace trimmed dress with white accessories. Both mothers will have pink rosebud corsages.

Mr. and Mrs. Schaidt will entertain with a reception in the Youth Center of the church following the ceremony. Miss Schaidt is a graduate of Fort Hill High School, Class of 1954, where she was vice president of National Honor Society and active in sports. She is employed at the G. C. Murphy Company.

Couple Mark 15th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Blake entertained with an open house in celebration of their 15th wedding anniversary at their home, Oakwood Avenue, is Cresaptown.

A three tiered cake topped with white bells and white doves, and tall white tapers in crystal candelabra centered the refreshment table. Assorted spring flowers were used in the decorations through the house.

Mrs. John T. Dorsey, Keyser, cousin of Mrs. Blake, served the cake and Mrs. Robert Miller, Mt. Savage, sister of Mrs. Blake, presided at the punch bowl. Also assisting with the serving were Mrs. Thomas J. Boyle and Mrs. Mabel Flanagan.

Approximately 60 guests attended.

The former Miss Mary Emma Cessna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Carl Cessna, Mt. Savage, became the bride of Joseph A. Blake, son of Mrs. Margaret Blake and the late Joseph P. Blake at Mt. Savage, June 5, 1940. The wedding was solemnized at a nuptial mass with the late Rev. Francis J. Egan officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Blake are the parents of three children. Mr. Blake is employed at the Queen City Electric Company.

Short Gap Firemen and Auxiliary will hold a chicken supper Saturday, July 9 from 5 p. m. until 8.

Bride Elect Honored At Shower

Miss Alice Ward was entertained with a surprise bridal shower at a recent evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. K. O. Nelson, McMullen Highway. The shower was given in the form of picnic for members of the Cresaptown Methodist Church choir of which Miss Ward is a member.

Miss Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Ward, Cresaptown, will become the bride of Charles DeVault, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles DeVault, Lonaconing, July 8 in Cresaptown Methodist Church.

Following a picnic supper, served on the lawn, the bride-elect was presented a clothes basket and liner filled with the gifts.

Mrs. Elizabeth Higgs was in charge of appropriate games and prizes were awarded.

Every raid on the larder is detrimental to the figure.

Secrets Of Charm by John Robert Powers

Do you wish a long and vigorous life as well as a lifetime of beauty? The secret lies in striving to keep an ideally weighted figure at every birthday.

You women have a much easier time doing this than we men. The job of dieting is much more simple for you, reports the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization. A woman needs only 2,300 calories of food a day while a man requires 3,200.

Time was when it was considered the normal thing — and even healthful for a woman to gain weight as she grew older. Now modern medical research tells us that after the age of thirty-five, every pound you gain over your normal weight can endanger your health and perhaps shorten your life span.

Your ideal weight should be determined by your individual height and bony structure (see below) — and should remain constant through your adult years. The smart woman will remember that every raid on the larder is detrimental to her figure. Keep a fat lady's photograph taped inside the refrigerator door — you'll never be tempted when you see that.

The only time a woman should eat as much as a man is when she is breast-feeding a child. But, once the baby is weaned, she should go back to the original plan of 900 calories a day less than her husband. When she is overcome by hunger between meals, the smart thing to do is reach for raw carrot strips, fresh fruit, skim milk, tomato or vegetable juice — not soft drinks and cookies.

Keep mentally and physically active. It's the bored and sedentary woman who makes a boon companion of her refrigerator.

These easy-to-use tables show you how to calculate your ideal measurements from head to toe. They will make figure readjustments simple and accurate. For a copy of "Do You Measure Up?" send 10c (in coin) and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper.

34 Exchange Students Visit Keyser Today

Service Clubs
Serve As Hosts

KEYSER—A group of 34 students from overseas, a segment of a combined group of several hundred students who have been attending schools in the United States for the past two years, will arrive in Keyser this evening for a day and two nights and will be entertained by the four local service clubs, the Yeoman, Lions, Rotary and Kiwanis.

In returning to their homelands following their schooling, they are traveling in small groups and moving eastward by different routes, and will unite in New York City in a couple of weeks, where they will board ships for the overseas trip to their homes.

There are 34 young high school age boys and girls, two chaperones and the operator of the special bus that is conveying this group on its "get acquainted with local communities" tour. The bus will be met at the Junction of U. S. Routes 50 and 220 south of New Creek, and will be escorted to Potomac State College where the tourists will be extended a welcome to the city by Mayor John C. Freeland, at a meeting of representatives of each of the service clubs, who will be hosts to the group while they are here. Dr. E. E. Church, president of the college and faculty members will also be present.

The group will have an opportunity to prepare for dinner and will be escorted to the First Methodist Church where they will be guests of the Keyser Kiwanis Club at the club's weekly dinner meeting. They will be directed to the church by Kiwanis Committeemen Russell Bishop and John Catlett. Following the dinner, the visitors will be guests of the Allegheny Square Dance Club, with Attorney Joseph Blundon and Donald Hott in charge for an evening of square dancing, after which the Yeoman Club will be hosts to the party and serve refreshments.

This will close the first evening of entertainment for the visitors and they will be taken to the homes of their hosts for the night. After breakfast they will begin another day of activity.

At 9 a. m. on Thursday the visitors will be taken from the homes of their hosts to the Science Hall on Potomac State College campus, where they will assemble under direction of Rotarian David G. Nuzum, and will start on a trip to Lake, where they will make a tour of the West Virginia Pulp & Paper Company plant. They will return to Keyser and attend the weekly Rotary Club luncheon as guests in Grace Methodist Church on South Mineral Street. Dr. Donald Kiser and David Nuzum will be in charge.

From 1:30 to 3:30 p. m., the individuals will have free time at the homes of their hosts and at 4 p. m. they will assemble at Science Hall on the college campus, where they will be guests of the Keyser Lions Club, under direction of Ted Kesner and Lee Temple. They will be taken to the Kesner picnic grounds on Patterson Creek where food and entertainment will be provided for the group, continuing through the

Working On Frostburg Library

Volunteers have been busy for several weeks readying the Frostburg Library for its official opening July 17. Shown here left to right are, Mrs. Joseph Kruson, Miss Jean Bowen and Miss Gertrude Williams. Mrs. Kruson and Miss Bowen are painting the new shelves which were built by volunteer labor from oak shelving donated to the library by Mr. and Mrs. Kruson. To date all work in painting, papering, cataloging and other work necessary has been donated by people interested in seeing the project brought to a successful completion at a minimum of cost.

Keyser Woman Holiday Victim Of Home Fire

Death left its holiday mark in Keyser Monday when a 21-year-old woman perished in an early morning blaze.

Victim of the Fourth of July tragedy was Mrs. Norma Ellen (Wolfe) Lloyd, who was found by Keyser volunteer firemen after fire destroyed her home on Newton Street in the Potomac Heights section of Keyser.

Fire Chief William Dorsey said firemen received the alarm at 4 a. m., and when they arrived at the home the flames were out of control. After the blaze subsided, the firemen entered the one-story frame dwelling and found Mrs. Lloyd's body.

Dorsey said the cause of the blaze could not be determined. Cpl. F. H. Tribett, of the West Virginia State Police detachment at Keyser, said an investigation is being conducted.

Miss Madalyn Bazzle, acting coroner for Keyser, said an inquest will be conducted this afternoon. Mrs. Lloyd had been residing in the home alone in recent weeks, according to authorities.

A native of Keyser, Mrs. Lloyd was a daughter of James T. Wolfe and the late Ellen Catherine (See) Wolfe.

Besides her father, she is survived by her husband, William Lloyd, Baltimore; a sister, Jackie Wolfe, at the Methodist Children's Home, Burlington; four brothers, Richard, Wayne and Douglas Wolfe, all of Keyser, and Douglas Wolfe, at the Children's Home, Burlington; her paternal grandmother, Mrs. William Moomau, Keyser, and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ashby See, Keyser.

Evening in an old fashioned outdoor picnic dinner party. The guests will be returned to the homes assigned to them on their arrival.

On Friday morning the visitors will have breakfast with their hosts and then assemble at the Science Hall on the college campus where each of them including their chaperones and the bus operator, who participated in all of the activities in Keyser, will be given box lunches, prepared by the Yeoman Club, and they will depart eastward toward the coast and another step nearer to their homes.

Frostburg Public Library Opening Scheduled July 17

FROSTBURG — The tentative opening date for the Frostburg Public Library at 97 East Main Street has been set for July 17, according to Mrs. Grace Bittner, president.

Mrs. Bittner said that individual response, as well as that of public officials, has been gratifying, particularly since every bit of work is being done by volunteers. Interested workers have been busy for days, painting, papering, erecting shelves, cataloging and preparing for use the more than 1,000 volumes already donated.

The volumes range from serious studies to modern fiction and form a wide range of interest foundation for the library. Large and valuable collections have been promised by Mrs. Mary Jane Rank, East College Avenue, and Owen E. Hitchens, Cumberland, and these, with other similar gifts, should bring the total size of the library well above the 2,000 mark by opening day.

This week officers and members will hold several meetings. Today at 8 p. m., in the Knights of Columbus Hall, the Catholic Daughters of America will sponsor a public card party for the benefit of the library. Admission will be by donation and the entire proceeds will go to the library. In addition to the usual bridge, five hundred, canasta and other games, there will be favors, prizes and refreshments.

On Friday afternoon, Mrs. Karl Perry, Flintstone, former librarian at Allegheny High School, will conduct a training course for women who have volunteered their services as librarians. With the assistance of Miss Helen Y. Hough, State Teachers College Librarian, and others qualified in this field, a modern system in cataloging has been developed that will make Frostburg's library modern in operation and capable of expanding its services as required.

Officers have emphasized the voluntary nature of all work being done and of all contributions being received. As an unusual example of the support being received, Mrs. Bittner revealed that a generous contribution of money was made recently by John R. Atkinson and Virgil and Margaret Atkinson in memory of the late Margaret Harris, Silver Spring, sister of Rev. F. Paul Harris, both of whom are remembered by many in Frostburg. The trustees of the library stated that such gifts will be recorded permanently in the library and acknowledged to the bereaved family when desired by the donor.

Joseph Kruson and John Stewart, co-chairmen of the finance committee, are co-ordinating plans of that committee and the women's canvass committee.

Plan Card Party

MT. SAVAGE—The Officers Club of Rebecca Arnold Chapter No. 57 OES will hold a luncheon and card party July 16 at the home of Mrs. Mary Best. The public is invited.

Meter Receipts

KEYSER — Parking meter receipts for the week ending Saturday in Keyser were $310.52, according to City Clerk Carl F. Theis Jr. He said the previous week's receipts were $274.66.

Services will be conducted at the residence Thursday at 1 p. m. with Rev. S. A. F. Wagner, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be in the family lot in Parsons.

The family requests that flowers be omitted.

Final Rites This Afternoon For Owen Ashford Slider

Back in 1947, Owen Ashford Slider completed carving his own tombstone from native stone.

He installed it across the road from his 119-year-old home atop Green Ridge Mountain about 20 miles east of here and inscribed it:

Owen A. Slider
Born Dec. 15, 1873
Died —

Slider said at the time he hoped Dec. 25, 1968, would be the date of his death. That would make him 95.

The 81-year-old descendant of one of Allegany County's first pioneers died Monday in the Allegany County Infirmary—nearly 14 years short of his goal.

"When I die, I don't want any music, preaching or flowers," he once announced.

But there will be services today at 1:30 p. m.

Born December 15, 1873, near Oldtown, Mr. Slider was a son of the late William and Mary E. (Twigg) Slider. As a young man he left home and worked in lumber camps in Tucker county. At one time he operated the Littleton (W. Va.) Milling Company and the Southern Stone Company at Hurd, W. Va.

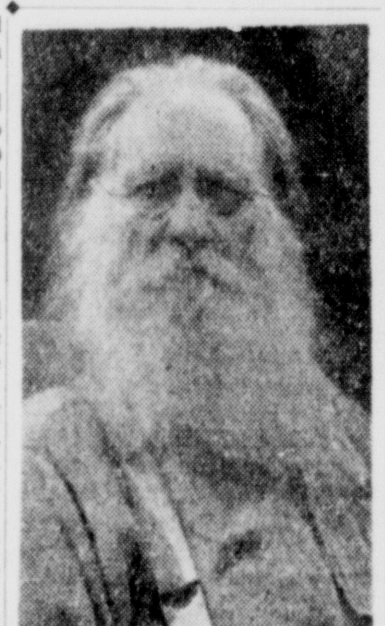

Later Mr. Slider went into the oil and gas fields of the Mountain State. He lost a leg in an oil field accident and then began to work as a stone cutter.

Married to the former Emma F. Jackson, who died December 28, 1945, he returned to Allegany county and his ancestral home in 1936, after the death of his father. The latter perished while fighting a fire on Warrior Mountain.

A Mason for more than 30 years, Mr. Slider held membership in Littleton Lodge, AF & AM; Scottish Rite bodies of the Ohio Valley; Osiris Temple, AAOONS, Wheeling, and the Methodist Church.

Surviving are two children, Mrs. Mary E. Chaney, Rawlins, and Mrs. Dinsmore Perkins, Glen Burnie; two brothers, Fred Slider, Brice Hollow Road, and Hanson Slider, Oldtown, and two grandchildren, Thomas E. Chaney, Hagerstown, and Owen Chaney, Rawlins.

The body is at the George Funeral Home where services will be held today at 1:30 p. m. with Rev. Howard M. Amoss, pastor of Centre Street Methodist Church, officiating. Rev. W. Randolph Keefe, pastor of Grace Baptist Church, and Orr Lodge 131, AF & AM, will conduct graveside rites in the Slider Cemetery on Green Ridge.

Openings Now Available Under Army Rotation Plan

With Operation Gyroscope, the Army's new unit rotation plan, underway, the United States Army Recruiting Service is looking forward to the second mass movement and announces that openings are now available in the Third Armored Division under unit rotation.

Last week 35,000 soldiers and families in the United States and Europe began the first operation, the largest peacetime rotation of Army troops. When completed in December, the 10th Division of Fort Riley, Kan. will have traded places with the 1st Division in Europe.

In addition to enlisting in any branch of the army or selecting special school, M/Sgt. Deneale E. Phillips at the local recruiting office announces that men may join the Third Division and choose any of the 14 branches of service.

Under the plan young men enlisting for unit rotation will stay together during their basic training, rotation in Europe, and return to the United States.

The Third Division is scheduled to embark for Europe in the spring of 1956. It will leave and return as a unit, so the opportunity to stay together is available to any local recruits.

Under unit rotation, if enlisting for six years, the soldier will spend approximately 33 months overseas and 31 months stateside. It also is possible to enlist for a three or four year hitch.

An added advantage of unit rotation is the guarantee of assignment stability, being informed where the unit is being transferred and for what period of time.

M/Sgt. Phillips, in his Post Office headquarters, stated that the plan will also reduce long separations between a married soldier and his family and will lessen the insecurity that arises from the likelihood of unforeseen leaves from overseas service.

Long questioned if since 1946, a lot of the legal responsibilities had been changed. Finan told him they had but not in the basic project under which this particular job comes.

to the meeting, complaining about interference to television reception in the Jackson Street area.

Clark explained that since the Jackson Street Cable Company had installed a cable and amplifiers, television reception in the area has been a series of double images, distorted pictures and generally had reception. Some $15,000 to $20,000 worth of television sets in this large residential section, the attorney claimed, have been rendered almost useless.

He requested the Mayor and Council to take action. After discussion, Mayor Alexander advised Clark and the delegation that the town will direct a letter to the Federal Communications Commission asking for an investigation. Clark said he will furnish the town officials with a signed petition from those affected, which can accompany the letter.

The town clerk and town attorney were also authorized to call attention to the C&P Telephone Company to an old agreement, signed February 3, 1902, giving the town two free telephones in exchange for right of way for lines and poles through the streets and alleys of the community.

Mayor Alexander said the town has been paying for telephone service for many years and uses two phones. In view of this agreement, it appears the company has not fully complied with the fullest terms of the agreement, Mayor Alexander said, and wants it called to its attention. Council unanimously authorized this action.

Council members include Robert Grove, Wilmoth Garlitz, John Thomas and William Berry. They along with Mayor Alexander, last night extended a welcome to the large number of citizens and taxpayers who attended the council meeting, and invited all to return and bring their neighbors to the next session on July 18.

Local Man Dies Of Gun Wound

A 37-year-old local lumberyard employee and former B&O machinist was found dead of a gunshot wound of the head Monday in the bedroom of his home.

Police identified the victim as Charles Richard Abe, 313 Bedford Street, and said failing health was blamed for the suicide. He used a .22 caliber pump-action rifle.

Investigation disclosed the bullet entered the right temple region about two inches above the ear. He was found in a second floor room, lying on a bed and partially dressed. Another shell was in the gun on the floor.

Officer Kenneth W. Morrissey, who investigated the shooting, said Abe left a note blaming ill health and stating that his insurance policies were in order. Abe had undergone surgery twice for ulcers and a stomach condition, the patrolman was told.

In the house at the time of the shooting at 5:50 p. m. were his wife, Lena (Close) Abe, a son, James Abe, 15, his mother, Mrs. Francis (Ogden) Abe, and a sister. Morrissey gave this account:

Abe told his wife and mother he was going to bed. Five minutes later he called to his wife and asked her to come upstairs. She replied that she was unable to ascend the steps since she recently underwent surgery and had just returned from the hospital. Soon afterwards the son heard the shot and raced to the bedroom.

It appeared that Abe was sitting on the bed when he shot himself. He slumped backwards and his head rested on a pillow.

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, assisted in the investigation.

A native of Cumberland, Abe was a son of the late Joseph H. Abe. During World War II, he served as a corporal with an Army engineer outfit in Europe.

Abe had been employed by the B&O Railroad for 10 years before he was furloughed. He worked for the Taylor Lumber Company the past year.

Survivors include a brother, James Abe, RD 1, Oldtown, and two sisters, Mrs. Evelyn Cavey, city, and Mrs. Cyrus Whitacre, Short Gap.

A funeral service will be conducted tomorrow at the residence. Rev. John Walsh, officiating. Interment will be in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, will conduct full military graveside rites.

Will Congress Listen To Sound Advice?

Again the Hoover Commission, studying the conduct of the nation's business, has come out with recommendations which, it says, can save huge chunks of tax money—$4 billion in this instance.

The commission, turning its attention to federal budget and accounting practices, calls for a general tightening up of procedures in these fields. A principal target is the practice of obligating money years in advance of actual payment. It estimates that with the beginning of fiscal 1956 on July 1, more than $53 billion in unexpended appropriations will be carried over on the books from the 1955 fiscal year.

So the commission recommends that Congress rescind all unspent allotments and direct agencies to submit programs outlining precisely how much money they need and at what time. Congress then would appropriate only for accrued expenditures required for goods and services for a year at a time. It also could authorize some funds for orderly contracting beyond that year.

Another important suggestion, made in conjunction with this change in spending procedure, is that the Bureau of the Budget be given a larger staff and greater supervisory powers. A closer watch on spending through representatives in major government agencies is also proposed.

At every turn the Hoover Commission task forces have put fingers on possible savings in federal funds—savings which, if realized, would cut heavily into the financial load that is passed along to the American taxpayer.

But it is not enough that these spots be pointed out. What Congress does about them is what is important. There should be reports on that feature before long.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Freedom Agenda

While the cry goes forth that the crime of the age is the insistence upon conformity, thousands of pamphlets, weekly newsletters and small publications give evidence of non-conformity, of an independence of thought and expression.

A group of pamphlets, entitled "Freedom Agenda," have been issued under the sponsorship of the Carrie Chapman Catt Memorial Fund, Inc., an organization created by the League of Women Voters, and financed by the Fund for the Republic to which the Ford Foundation contributed $15,000,000. The president of the Carrie Chapman Catt Memorial Fund, Inc. is Miss Anna Lord Strauss.

I am looking at a pamphlet prepared by Alan Westin, a lawyer, who writes on the subject, "The Constitution and Loyalty Programs." In this study, Mr. Westin comes up with this conclusion:

"The need to measure fidelity has also provided a fertile field for reckless and irresponsible politicians, who have been supported by groups to whom 'constitutional rights' is a dirty term and unorthodox thinking a sin. Demagogues of this ilk did not invent Communism or the Soviet Union, however, and it seems clear that the proper way to deal with them is not to abandon the quest for fidelity in public employment but to approach the task with sanity and justice, ignoring neither the dangers of Communist activity nor the menace of the radical 'security-firsters.'"

From this, it is possible to say that sin is evil but that objectionable persons are not to be trusted if they point out the sinners.

One of Mr. Westin's arguments dealing with the problem of evaluating loyalty to one's own government is this:

"... When the question becomes that of loyalty to country, it is one of the oldest and most complex problems involved in the governing of men. Christ was disloyal to Rome, while Judas, betraying his Master, was loyal to the State, if a few battles had gone differently in 1776, George Washington would probably have been hanged for his disloyalty to the British Crown. Spartacus, William Tell, Anne Hutchinson, Robert E. Lee, Alexander Kerenski, Mohandas Gandhi—all these were 'traitors'—yet their names are sullied if put into the same company with Benedict Arnold, William Joyce, Vidkun (sic) Quisling, or Elizabeth Gurley Flynn."

Christ owed no loyalty to Rome. His loyalty was to God. But apart from that, Rome had conquered Palestine and defiled its Temple to God. The Jews, among whom Christ appeared as a teacher and whose followers regarded Him as a Messiah, were seeking freedom from a profane conqueror. Judas was loyal to no country; he was disloyal to One whom he regarded as his teacher. Perhaps Westin has a point about George Washington, but not about Spartacus, who was a labor leader in a slave labor economy, or William Tell who was loyal to his country but not to the enemy of his country.

I do not understand the reference to Anne Hutchinson who was disloyal to no one but engaged in religious dissent. Robert E. Lee found himself involved in a constitutional question as to whether a sovereign state could secede from the Union into which it entered by contract when it ratified the Constitution. Some said, yes; some said, no. The Northern victory in the War Between the States settled the argument of secession but it did not settle the relations between the sovereign states and the Federal Government, which still trouble us. When Grant accepted Lee's surrender, he did not treat Lee as a traitor but as a respected citizen whom history had placed on the losing side of an argument.

Nor was Alexander Kerensky a traitor. The Czar had already abdicated. A provisional government had come into existence, first under Grand Duke Michael and then under Prince Lvov. The Kerensky regime succeeded Lvov's. It was a patriotic administration which was recognized by the Allies and, for a time, by the Russian people.

Mohandas Gandhi was no traitor. He was a social reformer who advocated and practiced passive resistance. As a matter of fact, the British did not accuse him of treason.

Westin speaks of Benedict Arnold, William Joyce, Vidkun (sic) Quisling, and Elizabeth Gurley Flynn. He says nothing of Alger Hiss, William Remington, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, or of Dr. Klaus Fuchs or Alan Nunn May. Incidentally, no one has accused Elizabeth Gurley Flynn of treason. She was never tried or convicted for such an offense.

Public Power May Be Key 1956 Campaign Issue

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—What constitutes a good political issue—and which party is right in appraising the mood of the American people? This question has just been crystallized in the attitude taken by political leaders of both parties toward the problem of government ownership of all electric power facilities.

In Britain the public ownership fever, known as "nationalization of industry," has about run its course as the conservatives found out in their recent election victory. But in the United States there are evidently leaders of the Democratic party who think they can strike "pay dirt" in the issue of public power. Senator Kefauver, Democrat, of Tennessee, is the leader of the public power side and Senator Knowland of California, Republican, is asserting that the American people would never approve government ownership of electric power as a national policy.

This is not a new controversy—for it was Senator Norris of Nebraska, independent, and originally a progressive Republican, who a few decades ago insisted that the Federal government appropriate funds to improve navigation and effectuate a system of flood control on the Tennessee River. It was argued then that this was a legitimate Federal purpose and that the by-product—electric power—was incidental. The issue went to the Supreme Court of the United States which decided that the Federal government had the authority to construct such projects as flood control and improvement of navigation.

Power Now Primary
But as the years have gone by what was incidental at the beginning—the generation of electric power—has become primary now. The advocates of government ownership of electric power, when faced a few years ago in the Tennessee River with a seasonal shortage of water for electric power purposes, began to urge the appropriation of government money to build steam plants to generate electricity. Thus in time the government ownership supporters have made no bones about their original deception and have come out boldly for Federal construction of electric power plants of all kinds.

Certainly the government can furnish electric power more cheaply than private companies if the latter are not relieved of taxes. The government can sell anything to the consumer more cheaply than private enterprise if it wishes to subsidize the projects. In the case of the Tennessee Valley Authority, the Federal government is collecting tax money from taxpayers in every part of the country and using it to benefit the Tennessee area alone. Some of the textile mills in the north have been forced to shut down because certain New England businesses have felt they could get cheaper power near the TVA in the south. That will hardly make votes for the Democrats in New England if they constitute themselves the government ownership party.

But the issue goes deeper. Why stop with electric power? If the government can provide cheaper electric power for certain areas and hide the costs through nationally imposed taxes, why isn't it logical to apply the principle of government ownership to steel, to automobiles, to aluminum, to airplanes, to railroads, to farming and to food distribution?

In Russia they have collective farms but the farmers don't like the system. They do manage to cut out profits for the middleman. If the object is merely to have the government own everything then, of course, labor unions become unnecessary, or at least they become subject to government control and regulation as well.

Private Ownership

From a political viewpoint there may be a few votes on the side of government ownership of electric power in and around the Tennessee Valley and in the Pacific northwest but in the rest of the country the Republicans ought to welcome the issue with open arms. For if the Democratic party wishes to use its opposition to the Dixon-Yates contract as a symbol of its enthusiasm for government ownership and nationalization, the Republicans can look forward to a victory on the opposite side of the argument. America is basically interested in private rather than public ownership.

The Eisenhower administration has sought to straddle the issue by flatly limiting Federal participation in electric power projects but at the same time recognizing the right of municipalities to engage in electric power businesses. Since the City of Memphis apparently recided last week to build a steam plant, the Dixon-Yates private project designed to meet the power needs of the Tennessee Valley Authority and the Atomic Energy Commission may become unnecessary and that's why the whole plan is being re-examined by the president and the bureau of the budget.

What needs to be re-examined also is how far the Democratic Party wants to go in committing itself to government ownership as a principle in national policy. For the Republican Party, which has consistently opposed anything approaching state Socialism or Communism or Fascism, can be depended upon to oppose vigorously any encroachment by government into the area of private enterprise. The Democrats are toying openly with ideas of state Socialism—they are still the radical party in America—and a showdown on such issues would be a healthy thing to bring about in the 1956 presidential and congressional campaign.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Just got through our national trip to fender-bending and stop-light-beating. And almost approached the total independence of Jonah who said he came in the front way and was going out the front way.

But it was achieved by the salesman on the used car lot who celebrated the Fourth by taking orders from nobody.

Also an Indiana sales manager who shopped for a Pullman certificate from Indianapolis to Washington. The engine blew a gasket and everybody went ashore at Harrisburg. But not Mr. Indiana. He said he was going to stay in Car 301 until it got to Washington. And that's the way it was.

When Newton's law of transportation bit into the apple car 301 rolled into Washington and a lone passenger got off. It was Mr. Indiana.

Almost as free was Mr. Moriarity of Sixth Avenue who bought and operated his own fire-plug absolutely independent of New York's fire department. The plug had office hours from twilight to midnight. And was designed to prevent parking in front of Mr. Moriarity's saloon. It also made an extra stop for dog-walkers.

Poison Ivy Recognition Will Save Hiker From Rash

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Everyone who is fond of tramping through the brush and fields should be able to recognize poison ivy. This is the only way to avoid the weed that produces a miserable rash in approximately 350,000 individuals annually. A good rule to remember is: When you see leaflets three, leave them be.

The plant is not really an ivy. Tradition has it that Capt. John Smith named it thus because he thought the weed resembled English ivy. The vine belongs to the genus Rhus, which includes sumac and 20 other species known to cause dermatitis.

Each plant contains an oily excitant (urushiol), capable of producing a rash. Contact with this sap usually is necessary but a minute quantity will produce symptoms. In some individuals, the eruption appears even though they have not been near the plant. This can happen after touching the family pug when he returns from a run through the shrubbery.

Sensitivity varies, although most of us will react on ordinary exposure. The outcome is intense inflammation of the skin, with swelling and blisters. If the outbreak is extensive, hospitalization may be necessary.

After exposure, the skin should be washed with strong soap and water, followed by the use of a solvent such as alcohol, benzene, or kerosene to insure complete removal of the oily irritant. When soap is not available, the solvents alone do an excellent job. Even fuel from an outboard motor is better than nothing.

A new ointment containing zinc and one of the anti-histaminic drugs prevents dermatitis provided the compound is applied within a reasonable time after exposure. It also can be applied ahead of time. Zincionum has a neutralizing effect upon urushiol. People who are likely to walk in contaminated areas may find the preparation helpful and so may the unusually susceptible person who is bothered year after year.

These products are useful but less effective if the rash has appeared. In one study, 47 patients with poison ivy dermatitis were treated with the zincionum preparation following exposure to poison ivy. Within 24 hours, 39 noted while Hay talked to Wu till he was hazy."

Secret White House Meeting Was Held Before Dixon-Yates Retreat

By Drew Pearson

more, the record shows what material, brief case, etc. every visitor carries.

And the AEC records subpoenaed by Senator Anderson showed that on January 20 none other than Adolph Wenzell, vice president of First Boston, had called on Chairman Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission. With him, believe it or not, were Edgar Dixon, partner in the Dixon-Yates combine, plus Paul Miller, also of First Boston.

Furthermore the AEC visitors' record meticulously noted: "Mr. Wenzell left by the back door carrying a large envelope."

In contrast to this official record in the hands of Democratic Senators, the President had stated at his press conference that Mr. Wenzell "was never called in or asked a single thing about the Yates-Dixon contract."

Conflicting Evidence

In further contrast to the President's denial, Dick Cook, manager of the Atomic Energy Commission, had admitted under oath on June 8 before the SEC that Wenzell attended meetings at the AEC, which considered Dixon-Yates in January.

In addition, Chairman Strauss himself was placed in rather an embarrassing position by the written record of visitors to his own AEC. Because last November, when the Joint Congressional Committee was probing the mysterious manner in which the Dixon-Yates contract was hurriedly OK'd by the President despite a 3-to-2 vote against it by the AEC, Congressman Chet Holifield of California asked Strauss:

"Do you know if Mr. Dodge was advised by a consultant who is now employed by any of the Dixon-Yates utility companies?"

"I have no knowledge of any consultants that Mr. Dodge may have had," Strauss replied, "or whether he had any."

Most of this information was in the hands of the Eagle-eyed Senator Kefauver, who had summoned Budget Director Hughes, himself the former controller of the National City Bank which helped arrange the insurance financing of Dixon-Yates, to an extraordinary 8 p. m. Senate investigation.

Hasty Alibi

Faced with all this, the hastily called White House meeting decided to give the President some kind of an out. So it was arranged for General Herbert Vogel, Ike's newly appointed head of the Tennessee Valley Authority to write a letter to the Budget Bureau notifying them that TVA would no longer have to supply power to the City of Memphis in view of Memphis' own newly proposed city power plant. Therefore, said General Vogel, TVA would not need Dixon-Yates power.

Actually, this was not at all new. Last November, the City of Memphis testified before the SEC, with an AEC representative present that it would not take power from Dixon-Yates.

Again on May 18, Mayor Frank Tobey of Memphis wrote General Vogel that it would not take Dixon-Yates power.

"As for Dixon-Yates," wrote Mayor Tobey, "the position of the City of Memphis has, from the outset, been clear and unequivocal."

"It is inconceivable that Memphis should be dependent upon a source of power which is clearly inconsistent with the continued growth and development of our community."

Thus the facts about Memphis had been known for months. However, faced with the inquisitive eye of Senator Kefauver at 8 p. m., Vogel wrote Budget Director Hughes the letter he needed to give Ike a chance to get off the worst political hook he's been on since entering the White House. Ike was summoned off the golf course and the statement was issued at 7 p. m., just in time to call off the Kefauver investigation.

TVA-Go-Round

Senators who voted secretly for Dixon-Yates behind closed doors in the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee were Democrats Ellender of Louisiana, Robertson of Virginia, and McClellan of Arkansas. . . . Two Republicans who usually vote against the power companies did not do so on this vote. They were Mundt of South Dakota and Thye of Minnesota who voted for Dixon-Yates. . . . It was not surprising that Saltston of Massachusetts, Smith of Maine, Dworshak of Idaho, and Knowland of California voted for Dixon-Yates, who has gone all out for the Passamaquoddy project in Maine, once ridiculed by the Republicans as a crackpot New Deal project. . . . Senators who voted against Dixon-Yates were Senators Hill of Alabama, Hayden of Arizona, Russell of Georgia, Kilgore of West Virginia, Magnuson of Washington, all Democrats, and Young of North Dakota, Republican.

In U. N. Wastebasket?

By Bob Considine

NEW YORK—(INS)—Among the letters which in all probability wound up in a wastebasket at the U.N. just before the holiday was one demanding $70,000,000 for the next of kin of 70 Americans who died in Korea or are believed to be held captive by the Chinese Reds.

The den and came from Capt. Eugene R. Guild, retired Army officer who heads an organization named Fighting Home Folks of Fighting Men. The headquarters are in Glenwood Springs, Colo.

Capt. Guild lost a boy in the Korean War. He has waged a vigorous campaign to have the government and/or the U. N. "force" the Reds to return the prisoners they still hold. He led a delegation of mothers to the U. N. a year ago but couldn't get a hearing from Dag Hammarskjold or Henry Cabot Lodge. The group was equally unsuccessful at the White House.

"My Dear Mr. Hammarskjold," Guild wrote to the Secretary General, "I furnish you herewith a claim by seventy kin of American soldiers who fought in Korea under the U. N. flag. The value of the life or liberty of an American patriot hero lost by reason of bad faith and disloyalty to him by the U. N. is placed at one million dollars and would be cheap at ten times that price. . . . Will you please designate the tribunal which will hear these claims. The procedure you will require, and the approximate date of the hearing which we request shall not be before August 1?"

"We are sure that the U. N., which was glad generously to indemnify those un-Americans who lost their jobs because of their sympathy with the Red enemy of America, will be equally glad to indemnify the kin of those Americans who lost their lives or their liberty fighting for a U. N. which did not, and still does not, back them up."

Guild lists "the following breaches of faith and loyalty" on the part of the U. N.: "Charge I.—Most of the U. N. did not back these men with their soldiers. "Charge II.—The U. N. kept a Red member on its military committee, where he could aid the enemy. "Charge III.—By this and other means the U. N. assured the Chinese Reds that if they attacked, the U. N. would not do its utmost to defeat them.

"Charge IV.—The U. N. tied our soldiers' hands, denying them strategic and tactical support of routine blockade, bombing and hot pursuit, removing their leader on the verge of victory and ordering cease fire each time victory was imminent.

"Charge V.—U. N. failed to expel the member who had started the war and who supplied the enemy with munitions.

"Charge VI.—U. N. did not prevent its member from trading with and supplying the enemy with the means to kill our men. "Charge VII.—U. N. made no effort to enforce the truce violated by the holding by the enemy of several hundred American soldiers."

Guild names as "witnesses" Generals Douglas MacArthur, James A. Van Fleet, Mark Clark, George E. Stratemeyer, Edward M. Almond and Admiral C. Turner Joy.

He assured Hammarskjold that his co-plaintiffs will, upon receipt of the millions, use the money to "rid America of the subversive influence of U. N."

Radio Free Europe, a kind of Voice of America with brass knuckles, marked its fifth anniversary on the air (July 4) with a salute in many tongues to the people behind the Iron Curtain who have never ceased resisting the Communist regimes.

RFE began operations with a mobile short-wave transmitter located in West Germany, and threw its feeble signal at Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria for 10 hours each week. Today it has 29 short-wave and medium wave transmitters and relay stations in three different parts of Germany and in Portugal. Five of the transmitters have a signal strength of 100,000 watts or more. It monitors 47 Communist stations, analyzes 550 Iron Curtain newspapers, booms through day and night. As a supplementary service it has ballooned 130,000,000 pieces of printed literature across the curtain. When all Europe is free, it will be said that there was a voice as vibrant and heartening as was Churchill's when another evil threatened Western civilization.

HOLLYWOOD, July 5 (INS).—Elko but remains just two days before returning to join son Lind. The pretty dark-haired girl, eyes sparkling with excitement over a new experience, who has been slipping into the wardrobe department at Paramount for fittings, is Nancy Sinatra embarking on her first screen role! Her first professional job for that matter.

Nancy will be in Deborah Kerr's and William Holden's "Magnificent Obsession" which George Seaton is directing and William Perleberg producing. The company leaves Wednesday for four weeks in the Virgin Islands.

"If you say I'm playing a big role I'll never forgive you," laughed Frank's popular ex-wife. "I play one of the Red Cross nurses, one of Miss Kerr's friends."

Nancy feels she can safely leave her three children for this length of time because Frank is here making "Tender Trap" and will take good care of Nancy, Jr., Frankie, Jr., and Tina.

The tip is that Doris Day gets "Silk Stockings" when MGM films the Broadway musical. Even though Hildegard Neff and Greta Garbo are her predecessors (Hildegard on Broadway, and Greta in "Ninotchka" from which "Silk Stockings" was satirized), Doris isn't scared.

Ever since her click in "Love Me or Leave Me" the blonde pop singer isn't afraid of dramatic roles. As for the music — oh what Doris will do with the lovely melodies!

Contract Bridge

by Josephine Culbertson

SMALL CARDS

WHEN experts talk about "intermediates" they are usually referring to tens and nines—it is rare indeed that lower cards can play a vital role, (except, of course, as establishable long cards).

However, no one can hope to play bridge as it should be played without giving due consideration to all the "spot-cards." Take the following case for example:

South dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

♠ K 10 8 4 2
♥ 9 5
♦ A K 8 7
♣ J 10

South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass
2 ♠ Pass 4 ♠ Pass
3 ♠ Pass 6 ♠ Pass

Distributed by King Features Syndicate

Experts disagree over the proper opening bid on such a hand as South's, but the majority favor one club. It is only fair to observe, however, that South managed the bidding satisfactorily from the spade opening, and that the final contract was correct.

West, on lead against the slam, suspected that South had bid clubs on the second round for the express purpose of discouraging a club lead, so, not to be intimidated, West laid down the club king. South won, drew the outstanding trumps, and then tried the heart finesse. West took the trick and cashed his club queen, defeating the slam.

South was somewhat premature with his heart finesse—there was another line of play that was well worth investigating! That was to lead a club, giving West his queen, and then to ruff the club six in the hope that the nine would fall and establish South's eight. South could then discard a heart from dummy on that club eight.

Obviously, the club nine would have fallen, and the contract would have become ironclad.

Water Department Gets $40,000 Loan

The city is borrowing $40,000 from member banks of the Cumberland Clearing House for the immediate needs of the Water Department at an interest rate of 1 1/2 per cent.

Finance Commissioner John J. Long announced arrangements for the loan to the Mayor and Council yesterday.

Council had authorized Long to arrange for borrowing up to $50,000 for the Water Department at the lowest possible interest rate.

Stock Market, With Steels In Spotlight, Climbs Higher

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, July 5 (AP)—The stock market went up today with steels and pivotal issues strong. The steel section was sent ahead in anticipation of higher prices that steel companies will charge to offset wage increases granted last week. Near the close, U. S. Steel announced price boosts that it averaged about 5.8 per cent.

Du Pont was up 10 1/2 at 24 1/2. General Motors advanced 3 1/2 at 113 1/2, and U. S. Steel was up 2 1/2 at 56 1/2.

The best acting stocks were the steels, major motors, coppers, and some oils. Aircrafts were backward all day and ended mixed.

There were many special situations that sent stocks upward, like the steel price boost, but there was a good foundation for market firmness. The Commerce Department said production and sales this year are pointed toward a record.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up $1.40 at a new record high of $175.00. The industrial component gained $3.10 at a new high of $242.90, due mostly to unusual strength in a handful of stocks used in the average. Railroads were able to post a new gain of 10 cents while utilities edged up 30 cents.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

In the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, Samuel H. Taylor vs. Elberta Taylor, No. 24143 Equity.

The object of this suit is to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the defendant. The Bill of Complaint states that the parties were married at Eckhart Mines, Maryland, on the 31st day of July, 1951, and that no childer were born of said marriage, and that on or about the 26th day of November, 1953, the defendant, without just cause or reason, abandoned and deserted the complainant, and that said abandonment and desertion has continued uninterrupted for more than eighteen months before the filing of the Bill of Complaint in this case and was deliberate and final on the part of the complainant. The separation of the parties is beyond any reasonable hope or expectation of a reconciliation. The complainant has been a resident of Maryland for more than two years prior to the filing of this suit and that the said defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, her last known address being 1053 Lenox Street, Detroit, 151 Michigan.

It is therefore Ordered this 14th day of June, 1955, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, that the complainant, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County, Maryland, notice in each of four successive weeks of this order to be inserted in the case of the defendant, namely, Bernard J. J. years of age, David, 16 and Joann J. years of age, the Complainant further alleges that the Respondent deserted her on or about the first day of December, 1951, without just cause and that such desertion has continued since said date without reasonable expectation of reconciliation. The Complainant alleges that she is and has been a resident of Allegany County, Maryland, for more than one year prior to the filing of these proceedings; and that the Defendant's last known address was Charleston, West Virginia.

IT IS THEREUPON, This 14th day of June, 1955, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, in Equity, ordered that the Complainant, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper in Allegany County, Maryland once a week for four successive weeks before the 15th day of July, 1955, give notice to the non-resident Respondent of the object and substance of this Bill, warning him to be and appear in this Court in person or by Solicitor on or before the 2nd day of August, 1955, to show cause, if any he may have, why a decree should not be entered as prayed.

City To Extend Bicentennial Invitations

Visits To Baltimore, Annapolis Set Today

Representatives of the City of Cumberland begin today a good-will tour to deliver personal invitations to the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial celebration August 14-20 to some 80 towns and cities in Maryland, Virginia, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Today's tour, the first of 15 planned by the Trade Expansion Committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the Publicity Division of the Bicentennial, will begin in Baltimore.

Miss Leone Saeli, as Miss Fort Cumberland, will present an invitation today at 11 a. m. to Mayor Thomas D'Alessandro Jr., in the Mayor's office.

She will also present to Mayor D'Alessandro a gift of stemware made in Cumberland.

The Mayor is expected to accept the greetings and gift and present Miss Saeli with the keys to the City of Baltimore.

Accompanying Miss Fort Cumberland will be Anthony Saeli, her father, and manager of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce; G. Louis Spoerl, a director of the Chamber and Mrs. Spoerl, and Col. F. Egerton Powell, chairman of the Bicentennial committee.

Luncheon Planned

Following the ceremony, the local delegation will be taken to the Southern Hotel, to be guests at a luncheon planned by the Baltimore Association of Commerce.

Present will be Wilbur VanSant, president of the association and head of the VanSant-Dugdale Company; William F. Schluderberger, president of the Ess-Kay Company and chairman of the Maryland Development Bureau Committee.

Other officials will include G. H. Powder, executive vice president of the association; W. S. Hammill, director of the Maryland Development Bureau, and Joseph W. Clautice, secretary of the association.

The goodwill emissaries will then proceed to Annapolis, where they will call upon Governor McKeldin at the State House at 2:30 p. m.

To Meet Governor

Miss Saeli will extend a Bicentennial invitation to Governor McKeldin and present a gift of stemware from the people of Cumberland.

Then the group will call upon Mayor Arthur B. Ellington at Annapolis at 3:30 p. m. to present an invitation to the City of Annapolis.

At each of the visits, Miss Fort Cumberland will also extend the greetings of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce and the personal greetings of its president.

Tomorrow's schedule includes visits to Carlisle, York, Gettysburg and Harrisburg, Pa., greeting the mayors of each city and presenting a gift from the city to Governor Leader at Harrisburg.

The group will include William Eisenberger, member of the Area Expansion committee; Mrs. Albert S. Paye, Col. Powell and Saeli. The invitations will be presented by Miss Fort Cumberland, who is yet to be selected.

Friday's tour includes visits to Hancock, Hagerstown, Frederick and Brunswick, Md., and Charles Town, Martinsburg and Berkeley Springs, W. Va.

The local delegation will be guests at a luncheon planned by the Frederick Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Fort Cumberland on Friday will be Miss Phyllis Sneathen, a member of the staff of the local telephone office.

She will be accompanied by William Morehead and C. Walter Haschert, local C & P Telephone Company manager, and Mrs. Haschert.

City To Pay Tribute To Braddock

Will Lay Wreath On General's Tomb

A Cumberland delegation will go to Braddock, Pa., Friday to lay a wreath upon the new monument that city is dedicating to the memory of Major General Edward Braddock.

The dedication is being held by the Pennsylvania city which this week is celebrating the Bicentennial of the Battle of Braddock's Field.

It was on what is now Braddock, Pa., that General Braddock was fatally injured on July 9, 1755, while leading a campaign against Fort Duquesne.

Participating in the ceremony will be Mayor Roy W. Eves, Col. F. Egerton Powell, chairman of the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial committee; Anthony Saeli, manager of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Bicentennial committee, and Lynn C. Lashley, first vice president of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

The Cumberland delegation will be guests of the Braddock Chamber of Commerce at a reception planned Friday at 5 p. m. at the Elks Club there.

Following the reception, they will be escorted to Scott Stadium, where an outdoor program will be held at 7 p. m. to mark the dedication of the new Braddock monument.

Pennsylvania Governor George M. Leader will give the principal address at the ceremonies.

The local delegation will lay a wreath, decorated with crossed British Colonial and American flags, upon the monument in memory of the British general who left Fort Cumberland early in June, 1755, to begin his ill-fated campaign against the French forces in North America.

Mary Spera Wins Talent Contest

Competing with 10 other contestants, 11-year-old Mary Catherine Spera, of St. Mary's School, won first place in the Virginia Avenue playground talent contest.

She will represent Virginia Avenue Playground, presenting her tap, toe and ballet dances, in the intra-city contest Friday night in Constitution Park.

Second honors went to Judy Spies for her "sputterball act," and Mike Goetz won third place with his piano solo, "Tales from the Vienna Woods."

Cash awards, donated by the playground association, were presented to the winners, and each contestant received a minor award. Judges were Mrs. Elmo Evans, Mrs. Adam Grim and Mrs. Thomas Dougherty. Mrs. Fisher was accompanist.

Will Take It Easy

James B. Martin, a carman helper at the B & O Bolt and Forge Shop for 29 1/2 years, receives his certificate of retirement and congratulations from Roy W. Eves, superintendent of the shop. Martin resides with his wife at Corriganville and says he plans to do some work in his garden, though he is retired, but "mainly to take it easy."

Work On Bridge Approach Here Slated Soon

New Bids Asked For Road On W. Va. Side

The Maryland State Roads Commission has awarded the contract for the construction of the Maryland approach to the Cumberland-Ridgeley bridge to the Cumberland Contracting Company.

The firm yesterday began moving drainage pipe to the construction area in Riverside Park and plans to begin work within the next 10 days.

The local firm submitted the low bid of $60,683.90 for the project, a figure which was within 1.6 per cent of the cost estimate of the City Engineering Department, which prepared plans for the job.

Is Federal-Aid Job

The approach is being built as a federal-aid project, with costs shared by the City of Cumberland and the government through its Federal-Aid Urban Program.

The West Virginia State Road Commission recently rejected an excessive $53,841 bid of the George F. Hazelwood Construction Company for the Ridgeley approach to the span.

The commission announced yesterday that bids will be received July 19 on seven West Virginia road projects expected to cost $800,000.

The bids will be the first opened under the administration of newly appointed Road Commissioner Burl A. Sawyers.

Request New Bids

The projects include the grading, drainage and surfacing of the Ridgeley approach to the new bridge.

The SRC said this is a re-advertising of the project on which June 21 bids were turned down as excessive.

Virtually all of the work on the superstructure of the bridge has been completed, with the exception of final painting and the application of a blacktop wearing course.

The blacktop cannot be laid, however, until fill is placed against the abutment of the bridge here, to allow the use of blacktop-laying machinery.

Local Project In Senate Flood Control Bill

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—The Senate today passed a bill carrying $563,763,000 to plan and build flood control and navigation projects in the current fiscal year.

The bill now goes to a Senate-House conference committee since the Senate added some $45,543,200 to the amount approved earlier by the House.

The money authorized by the bill will go to the Army Engineers.

Among the projects already approved by both branches are: Cumberland, Md., and Ridgeley, W. Va., $1,400,000, the amount recommended by the Corps of Engineers.

New Cumberland lock and dam, Ohio and W. Va., $7,000,000. Sutton, W. Va., reservoir $1,300,000.

Hargreaves To Speak At Jaycee Dinner

Albert H. Hargreaves, director of industrial promotion for the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, will be the guest speaker at the dinner meeting of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce at 6:30 p. m. today at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Oscar H. Lashley Jr., Jaycee president, said that reports will be submitted on a number of summer projects of the organization, including the Brothers of the Brush, the sale of Bicentennial hats and the Soap Box Derby. The Jaycees annually provide the manpower to conduct the derby on Pennsylvania Avenue.

Benjamin Long, 1804 East Oldtown Road, suffered deep lacerations of the skull after being struck on the head with a heavy cane, wielded by his brother, William Long, 64, who lives at the same address.

City Police Officers Carl Williams and Gordon Hite, who investigated, arrested the brother, Mrs. Anna Long, a sister-in-law, and another woman, Effie Kellar, who also resides in the Benjamin Long residence.

The officers said the quartet apparently had been drinking when the fight began between the two brothers.

William Long is being held for investigation pending the outcome of the older brother's injuries.

Bicentennial News Briefs

The Little Egypt Chapter of the Brothers of the Brush will meet today at 7:30 p. m. at the K Bar on Virginia Avenue. Future activities of the chapter will be planned. Ritter's West Side Cave Men will hold a joint meeting with its auxiliary unit today at 8 p. m. in Ritter's Cave.

Treatment Plant Is Taking Shape

Cumberland's $2,000,000 sewage treatment plant is beginning to shape up on land which was once a cornfield, lying in South Cumberland off Offutt Street, between the B & O Railroad tracks and the Potomac Offcut. This long-range shot shows the earth levee surrounding the 10-acre plant site, and progress on several of the structures which will be used for the primary treatment of Cumberland sewage. Generally good weather has expedited work by the Moyer Brothers Company, of Altoona, Pa.

Mahoney Urges Industry Boost By Md. Agency

Legislative Group Hears His Proposal

BALTIMORE, July 5 (AP)—"Action now may prevent unemployment and hunger next year," George P. Mahoney said tonight in urging the Legislative Council to approve a new state agency to attract industry.

"It is my earnest hope that the General Assembly will act promptly on this important matter," Mahoney told the Council's Judiciary Committee, "so that a program of industrial development and an expansion of employment opportunities can be launched as soon as possible."

Winter Recalled

He recalled that during the past winter, "the Western Maryland area, listed by Federal authorities as one of the most critical areas of unemployment in the nation, experienced great hardships."

"Unless some successful effort is made to attract new industry to such areas in our state, there is every reason to expect a similar crisis in those counties again next winter."

"It is this consideration which puts the need for attracting new industries in the 'urgent' category."

Mahoney has been urging some form of state agency for attracting industry for the past couple of years. He testified tonight in connection with a bill containing the idea which got no farther than introduction at this year's General Assembly.

Bill Revived

He suggested the dead bill be revived with amendments. Mahoney, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for governor and U. S. Senator, called the old bill's provision for a single director and salary of $7,500 "very inadequate."

He reported that the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce "is paying a salary of $15,000 for their industrial development director."

"My recommendation, therefore, is that this bill be amended to provide for adequate staff and adequate financing."

The Legislative Council is going over bills to be offered to the next General Assembly in February.

67-Year-Old Man Injured By Brother

A 67-year-old man was admitted to Memorial Hospital last night with a possible fractured skull after an altercation with his brother.

Benjamin Long, 1804 East Oldtown Road, suffered deep lacerations of the skull after being struck on the head with a heavy cane, wielded by his brother, William Long, 64, who lives at the same address.

City Police Officers Carl Williams and Gordon Hite, who investigated, arrested the brother, Mrs. Anna Long, a sister-in-law, and another woman, Effie Kellar, who also resides in the Benjamin Long residence.

The officers said the quartet apparently had been drinking when the fight began between the two brothers.

William Long is being held for investigation pending the outcome of the older brother's injuries.

County Unable To Remedy Sewage Seepage Problem

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners indicated no further action could be taken on complaints from Vernon T. Poole of Grahamtown on seepage of sewage onto his property, following a report submitted to the county at yesterday's meeting from Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health department director.

Dr. Frantz, in a letter to Poole, said the health department would check further to see if raw sewage were seeping into the natural drain on Poole's property. Previous checks made by the department had indicated no "raw sewage, but Dr. Frantz said that seepage from other property would have to be removed by the owners if found on the Poole property.

Dr. Frantz further stated in his letter, a copy of which was read at the commissioners' meeting yesterday, that some drainage from a neighbor's septic tank had been noted, but pointed out that this was natural.

The county commissioners cannot place pipe in the natural drain unless the property owners pay for it. Poole was informed, and Dr. Frantz said that should the county put in the sewer pipe free, there were hundreds of similar cases which would have to be handled at a prohibitive cost to the county.

Dr. Frantz also said the State Roads Commission had been informed of the condition but had indicated it could do nothing to remedy the situation.

The only solution for the problem, said the health department head, was for the town of Frostburg to put in a sewage system. Poole, who resides at 101 Walnut Street, had complained to the county commissioners and the health department that sewage from other property was draining onto his property, causing foul odors and unhealthful conditions.

Firemen reported over $2,000 damage to the garage, the car and interior of the house.

Fire Chief Carl Stalnaker said Nestor's car was in the Moore garage as Nestor was residing with the Moore family while his home, which was destroyed by fire May 6, was being rebuilt.

The Moore house was rebuilt last year after being completely destroyed by the August 6 tornado which struck Parsons that year.

Cumberland had a high of 90 degrees yesterday while the official low for the 24-hour period was 63. At 7:30 p. m. the mercury registered 75 and the humidity at 6 p. m. was 63 per cent.

West Virginia State Police reported a steady rain began to fall in the Romney area about 10 p. m. with some thunder and lightning as temperatures began to fall slightly.

Pennsylvania State Police reported some light rainfall but mostly cloudy and muggy conditions in the Bedford area.

Forecast for today is some more of the same with no break in the hot spell seen for several days.

Man Nabbed In Trailer In Possession Of Two Guns

A 55-year-old man was arrested yesterday afternoon by Sheriff's Deputies Paul C. Haberlein and Edgar M. Lewis who had to take two loaded guns from him.

Wilbur Hamilton, who resides in a car trailer on Baltimore Pike, was arrested after neighbor's complaint to the State's Attorney that he was creating a disturbance and threatening to shoot anyone who interfered.

The man, who is employed at Habel's greenhouse on Baltimore Pike, had been drinking according to the two deputies and threatened his employers.

A warrant for disorderly conduct was issued and Haberlein and Lewis went to Hamilton's trailer. Lewis said as they approached the vehicle they spotted a .22 caliber repeating rifle leaning against the side of the trailer. Easing to the side of the trailer door which was open Lewis looked in and saw Hamilton sitting on a bunk with a shotgun beside him.

The deputy said he grabbed the gun from Hamilton before the latter realized they were there. Hamilton attempted to retrieve it, threatening to shoot the deputies if he got hold of the weapon again. The deputies said both weapons were fully loaded, the shotgun with pumpkin ball shells. Hamilton was placed in Allegany County Jail pending a hearing in Trial Magistrate's Court.

Meanwhile, a Piedmont hotel manager, who threatened police officers with a gun Monday, was committed to Newton D. Baker Veterans Hospital in Martinsburg, W. Va., for six months for psychiatric treatment.

Joseph LeBeta, who operates the Potomac Hotel in Piedmont, was tried before Justice of the Peace Stanley Yost in Keyser on charges of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill Police Officer Charles Spiker, drunkenness, disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

Yost dismissed the assault with a deadly weapon charge but committed the man to the hospital for treatment.

Flood Group Is Appointed By Ridgeley

Bicycle Licenses Will Be Issued

A new Flood Control committee was appointed last night at a meeting of Mayor Charles Fryer and the Town Council of Ridgeley.

Mayor Fryer said the committee will include Owen Logsdon, chairman, Herbert Davis, Sylvester Martin, Charles Mulligan and Robert Edenhart.

The newly appointed committee plans to meet within the next week for a briefing on the progress on the $17,000,000 project, and then arrange a joint meeting with the City of Cumberland.

The Ridgeley council met last night and opened its business session following the invocation by Rev. Roscoe Hall.

The financial report was approved, and orders passed to pay the monthly water bill of $398.80, and bonds costing $78.75 for the mayor, recorder, police chief and assistant chief.

Issued was a permit for the removal of a frame house at 15 Perry Street owned by Woodrow Graham.

The council granted permission to the Ridgeley Fire Company to close Third Avenue July 25-30 during the Homecoming Celebration.

Police Chief Harry Dietrick reported bicycle permits will be issued, beginning Thursday at 9 a. m. at the Council Chamber.

Chief Dietrick was authorized to purchase two new tires for the police cruiser.

Town officials discussed the relocation of several sewers, discussed at yesterday's meeting of the Cumberland council, and announced they were unable to cooperate, since sewer funds could not be stretched to include the work.

The city Sewer Department is going to relocate several house sewers in Ridgeley which would be in the way of the levee to be constructed in connection with the flood control project, according to an order passed by the Mayor and Council yesterday.

City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum estimated work will not exceed $500, and is in accordance with the city's responsibilities for relocation, change or alteration of existing facilities under the basic project plans.

Explanation that the five houses would be tapped onto the nearest sewer system instead of emptying into the Potomac river brought from Street Commissioner William H. Buchholz the remark that he thought it's time "they (Ridgeley) donated to the cause if they have a sewer department over there."

Nuzum explained that Ridgeley's setup is not a department as it is known in Cumberland.

Finance Commissioner John J. Long also expressed the same view as Buchholz, and voted "No" to (Continued on Page 8, Col. 2)

Lonaconing Will Repave Three Streets

Cumberland Firm Awarded Contract

The Cumberland Contracting Company was awarded a contract for resurfacing three streets in Lonaconing by action of the Mayor and Council there last night at their regular meeting.

The cost of the paving work totals $17,157 and includes three inches of hot mix surfacing material to conform with State Roads Commission specifications. The streets to be improved are 100 feet of Church Street, 22 feet wide and 250 feet of Church Street 16 feet wide at a cost of $6,316; 50 feet of Robins Street 16 feet wide at a cost of $8,886; and 600 feet of Hanekamp Street 14 feet wide, plus certain grading, at a cost of $1,955.

Upon unanimous action of the council, Mayor Virgil Alexander instructed the town clerk, Robert B. Thomas, to complete negotiations with the Lonaconing Branch of the Liberty Trust Company for a $10,000 loan against the town's levy, to provide immediate cash to make these repairs.

Repairs Urged

Council and Mayor Alexander also noted that any property owners on these streets, who are planning repairs to their sidewalks or to the fronts of their lots, should make them immediately, so the blacktopping will not be disturbed later.

Mayor Alexander also instructed the clerk to notify the Lonaconing Water Company and the C & A Gas Company that this repaving is to be started in two weeks, and any contemplated repairs, changes or replacements in water or gas lines on these streets must be made at once before the streets are repaved.

There was considerable routine business at the council meeting. Since the new council took office June 6, Mayor Alexander noted, a number of problems have been considered, and steps are being taken to properly handle each of these as time and money and occasion permit.

The financial report from June 7 to June 30 showed the town in good financial condition. Receipts for this period totaled $2,948.97 and disbursements, mostly payrolls and general operating costs totaled $1,954.99 for the same period.

The report shows the receipts include $206.13 from parking meters and $1.60 for parking violations; $1,429.37 collected in 1955 taxes plus $7.88 cents in interest and back taxes for 1954; $649.52 from Clerk of Court Joseph E. Boden as the town's share for county traders' licenses; $530 from James Holmes, tax collector as the town's share on auto taxes, and $1,920 in Sunday Motion Picture tax.

Council granted permission to Alvin C. Neat Post No. 5280, Veterans of Foreign Wars, to hold its annual summer children's carnival from July 11 to 16.

Permit Granted

A building permit was granted to the C & P Telephone Company for construction of a 16 by 33 foot addition to its Main Street office building. Cost is estimated at $7,000.

Council authorized the expenditure of $83 to repair a street roller and put it in operation. Mayor Alexander told the council the town owns this roller and it has been out of action because of a few repairs. An order was passed to have Daniel Fitzpatrick make the repairs for the estimated $83.

William Torkington, Cumberland CPA, was authorized to make the annual audit of the town's financial records.

The town clerk was authorized to spend $17 for a needed storage cabinet in his office.

Council authorized the clerk to notify the telephone company that it had failed to repave three spots on Main Street where poles had been removed and to ask the company to have this work done at once.

Police Commissioner Robert Grove said he had investigated a request that a red line be removed from the Brady Hotel and James Ritchie's place of business and a yellow line placed there to permit loading and unloading.

Patrick Nolan requested that sewage facilities be provided for his property on Island Street and stated there is some difference of opinion about a sewer in the vicinity. Nolan believes the existing sewer is a public one while a neighbor believes it is a private line. James Getty, town attorney, was instructed to investigate.

William Gephart requested an additional street light on Church Street and was advised that light has been ordered there.

Leslie J. Clark, attorney, headed a delegation of about 25 citizens (Continued on Page 8, Col. 4)
